DETAILED ACTION

1. Claim 2-5, 7-10, 13-15, 18, 20-36, 39, 40 & 59 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

It is well known in the art to have so-called free spin bonus games in which the player receives a number of free spins & is awarded a payout based on the results of these free spins. (See for instance, Bigelow (US Patent Number 7,258,611) and Anderson (US Patent Number 6,881,146).) In order to implement such games, while remaining profitable, casinos would necessarily have to accumulate funds to pay the wager cost of these free games. Thus Applicant's "free game pot" is an inherent feature of any free spin bonus game.

Furthermore, as the history of this application's prosecution makes clear, it is well known to use the filling of a pot as a trigger for a bonus game. However, these "pots" are unlike the pot being claimed since these are actually prize pools.

Examiner has agonized over whether the Applicant's newly-claimed invention is obvious over the prior art. Clearly, if it is patentable, the mere existence of the "free game pot" is not the patentable feature. But can Examiner say that using this "free game pot" as a bonus trigger would have been obvious?

On the one hand, the prior art is replete with art that uses the level of a prize fund to trigger a bonus. A wager fund is not all that different from a prize fund. Certainly no one could argue that the claimed invention would be beyond one of ordinary skill. Nor that using the level of the wager fund as a trigger would lead to unexpected results.

Yet Examiner cannot read the court's decision in KSR to mean that just because one of ordinary skill could have implemented the claimed invention with predictable results, then the invention is not patentable. This would mean that there would be no such thing as impermissible levels of hindsight. Without some suggestion in the prior art to suggest using the level of the wager fund as a trigger for the bonus game, Examiner believes that the invention cannot be said to be non-obvious without the exercise of impermissible levels of hindsight.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
